

CAMPBELL RIVER MIRROR

Researcher asks council to defend salmon farming industry

By Grant Warkentin - Campbell River Mirror

Published: April 15, 2010 3:00 PM

39 Comments

The B.C. aquaculture industry is the victim of a multi-million-dollar American-funded "demarketing" campaign, says researcher Vivian Krause.

Krause used to work as a manager for fish farming company Nutreco, but now lives in North Vancouver with her family.

She hasn't worked for the industry since 2007, and says she is doing her research and raising the issue as a "concerned citizen."

She's tired of seeing the industry attacked and has been researching its critics. She presented her research to council on Tuesday, in the hope it would inspire the city to get involved, or at least be more aware of the conflicts over aquaculture.

"It seems to me that unless there's some unusual intervention, things will remain the same," she said.

Krause presented council with two research papers she's prepared which show how many of the environmental groups speaking against aquaculture are funded by American foundations and organizations with an interest in promoting the Alaskan wild salmon fishery.

She said that B.C. salmon farms have been targeted for "demarketing," when one company promotes its product by pointing out the flaws in its competitor's product.

One of her slides shown to council featured Apple's "I'm a Mac, and I'm a PC" advertising campaign as an example of demarketing.

The reasons for the campaign are purely financial, she said.

"The rise of salmon farming had devastating market impacts on the commercial fishing industry, especially in Alaska," she says in her paper titled Sea Lice Research: Science or Marketing? "As restaurants and grocers switched to farmed salmon over the 1990s, fishermen lost some of their prime markets and the value of Alaskan 'wild' salmon collapsed.

"The Alaska Fisheries Office reported, 'Alaska salmon continues to fall well short of the fine quality of farmed Atlantic salmon.'"

Krause said that since 2003, when the campaigns against farmed salmon gained momentum, many stores and restaurants have switched to sell wild salmon.

And since then, she added, the value of Alaskan wild salmon sold has increased from $125 million in 2002 to $409 million in 2008. Her research also establishes financial links between the University of Alberta's Centre for Mathematical Biology, which has done studies on how sea lice around salmon farms affect wild salmon runs, and American foundations and organizations, and also with B.C. environmental groups.

Researcher Vivian Krause spoke to city council this week, explaining how her research shows an organized campaign funded by American interests to damage the market for B.C. fish farm products. Grant Warkentin/The Mirror

Buy Campbell River Mirror Photos Online

Email Print Letter to Editor Share

OTHERS ALSO READ...

- Campbell River Mirror
 - Council considers industrial tax break
 - Mailout coming to defend HST
 - Industrial thefts across North Island
- Vancouver Island North
 - Farmed salmon benefit grows
 - Industrial thefts hit

Text

www.WhiteSpot.ca/Italian_Specials

Ads by Google

what twitter is saying about #campbellriver environmental groups.

Council didn't have much to offer Krause.

Mayor Charlie Cornfield pointed out that with the upcoming changes to the industry – which is being shifted to fall under the jurisdiction of the federal government – the city will have less opportunity to get involved.

The federal government does not recognize the city as a level of government, and they will not be invited to consultations about fisheries and aquaculture issues, he said.

All of Krause's research is available on her website www.fair-questions.com

COMMENTS

COMMENTING ETIQUETTE: To encourage open exchange of ideas in the BCLocalNews.com community, we ask that you follow our guidelines and respect standards. Don't say anything you wouldn't want your mother to read. More on etiquette...

Required: Please login below to comment.

Comments for this page are closed.

Showing 39 of 39 comments

Sort by

 Steve_Wallace 8 hours ago

2 people liked this.

A message to the critics of Ms. Krause: Why are you so concerned with where Ms. Krause lives or how much money she makes? If you do not believe her claims, you should investigate rather than assume or insinuate. How ridiculous you would devote such time and energy to such nonsense instead of reviewing her research. (and here's where I'll make an assumption of my own: you haven't read all the information Ms. Krause has supplied, have you?) You don't seem to want to comment on the content or the accuracy of her work; why? I think we know why. Where Ms. Krause lives or how she makes a living or if she sings karaoke doesn't change the facts uncovered in her investigations.

Your treatment of Ms. Krause on a personal level is deplorable, and your blatant disregard for the facts is nothing new.

Flag

 editor_crmirror ★ 11 hours ago

2 people liked this.

Okay folks. I've just deleted a comment because of a personal insult. Vivian Krause has opened herself up to scrutiny about her own finances because she raised that issue vis a vis Alex Morton. That's fine if you don't believe her. But I'm putting you all on notice that we will not be calling each other names on this forum. Keep the dialogue civilized or it will be removed. These are contentious issues and childish name calling does nothing to further the public's understanding of them.

Flag

 kathywarth 11 hours ago in reply to editor_crmirror

I apologize. You're up early!

Flag

 VivianKrause 4 days ago

3 people liked this.

As I told City Council, I worked in the salmon farming industry in 2002 and 2003. In 2007, I also did two short consultancies for the salmon farming industry for which I was paid a total of $17,750. I have not worked for the salmon farming industry since July of 2007.

 CRMirror Teen arrested for assault on youth: Mounties have arrested an 18-year-old male in connection with an... #campbellriver 42 minutes ago

 CRMirror Fundraiser promises to be fun: There's still time to make plans for a "Starry Night" out. #campbellriver 42 minutes ago

 CRMirror Children's activist to speak: Craig Kielburger of Free The Children will present Me to We: A Challen... #campbellriver 42 minutes ago

 CRMirror Two vehicles burned by early morning arsonist: Police are looking for the culprit who torched two ve... #campbellriver 42 minutes ago

twitter Join the conversation

During our correspondence last June, Alexandra Morton asked me about how I make my living. You can read my answers to her: <http://fairquestions.typepad.com/fishfarmfuss/2...>

For more about why I believe that my questions are important and fair, see: <http://fairquestions.typepad.com/fishfarmfuss/2...>

For more about why others aren't asking these questions and why I am, see: <http://fairquestions.typepad.com/fishfarmfuss/2...>

If anyone has questions after reading all that, fire away!

The link to my blog is www.fair-questions.com

Flag

Like

Layman 11 hours ago in reply to VivianKrause

I did go to your site, I read some but not "all that".
You can do all of this work and not be paid? How does your daughter afford schooling? Why wouldn't the aquaculture people aid you in this arduous endeavor? How much is your rent? Do you own a car? Where did you stay when you came to Campbell River? Who paid for that?
Answer away Vivian!

Flag

Like

heatherolney 10 hours ago in reply to Layman

1 person liked this.

Layman : If you read some of Krause's website you also should have read Morton's comment that the Orca Chief does not have a packing license. Morton also states this on her twitter Blog. That is a very nice piece of misinformation that Morton constantly likes to put out in the media. My husband runs the Orca Chief and it is not a DFO licensed packer requiring a D license to pack salmon as Morton likes to claim. It falls under a totally different area and in fact doesn't have to display a license. It does have to have a transfer permit for EVERY fish move. Typical of Morton lies.

Flag

Like

mikegerald 13 hours ago in reply to VivianKrause

Seems like you do a lot of work for an industry you say you don't work for, Vivian.

Flag

Like

heatherolney 4 days ago

1 person liked this.

Layman, Vivian Krause did research on Raincoast which is Morton. You all refute Krause and her research, insult her etc and that's just dandy isn't it till someone points out the truth of the matter. Morton is the one promoting the doing away with fish farms. Krause is promoting their value yet she is insulted by you, kathywarth, maleman, cpelletier who by the way according to my sources worked with Ms. Krause within the aquaculture industry at one time. This article has a lot to do with Morton because the background of the subject is in fact Morton & others endless campaign against fish farming. Why is Vivian Krause targeted by all of you just because she once worked in the industry and now works tirelessly to promote it ? kathywarth insults her by saying she must have money if she can afford to live in Vancouver. What has her place of residence to do with her support of a viable industry. let's remember Morton also promotes commercial fishing of our wild salmon even though some stocks are at low levels. hardly sustainable is it ? Insult me all you want It's not the first time you've done it and I'm sure it won't be the last either. Read floppingfreshfish.com and their glowing report on Morton and pink salmon then tell me she isn't supported by Alaska commercial salmon fishermen. As for krause she took the trouble to do some valuable research. Too bad the rest of you can only throw insults and not take the same trouble to find out a little more about a subject you have no knowledge of.

Flag

Like

heatherolney 4 days ago

1 person liked this.

Maleman, Layman : Why does Morton put so much effort into slagging the aquaculture industry if SHE isn't paid to ? People like you want to slag an industry you know nothing about while looking down your noses at those that defend it because they have first hand knowledge of Morton's true agenda. Where do you think Morton is getting all the money to fund her Migration walk against aquaculture ??

FlagLikeLayman 4 days ago in reply to heatherolney

Heather, you are the epitome of selfimport! I have read your comments about sticking to the subject of the blog before. Unless you are reading a different article than the sober world, this has NOTHING to do with Morton.

"People like you"? You don't know me and I was discussing the article not the industry so either you aren't interested in the article or you just like to stir the pot.

YOU are the one always complaining about being insulted but I believe you are the one who is always flying off the handle.

Talking about jondamvan's supposed "heroine", probably meaning Morton, was ignorant in that his comment had nothing to do with her. He commented on Krause's website so if you can't stay on topic please save us from your rantings!

If you now feel "insulted", you should. If you now feel you were out of line, you should. If you now want to rail against me, perhaps you might reread the article because this isn't about Morton or have someone else read it to you.

FlagLikemaleman 4 days ago

Her website starts out with a disclaimer that says anything on her blog may be changed or omitted at anytime. These facts may or may not be true?

That nasty "American" money is sure scarier than that "Norwegian" money. Do the Norwegians pay Ms. Krause in Canadian money?

FlagLikeheatherolney 11 hours ago in reply to maleman

1 person liked this.

maleman : Alexandra Morton has the same disclaimer on her raincoast website. She does not allow comments she doesn't first approve to appear on her Twitter blog so it's hardly a blog is it when the deck is stacked. What difference does it make about Krause's personal finances ? That is none of any of our business. In fact it is totally irrelevant to the question at hand. What is important is the fact that Morton is paid well by foundations funded with money from American sources the biggest of which appears to be the Alaska Commercial salmon fishermen. That it itself should raise the question exactly why does an American come to Canada funded with American funding from the biggest competitor for world salmon markets and endeavor on a long and nasty campaign to discredit aquaculture ? Answer : because it is very profitable for Ms Morton to do so and the Alaska commercial fishermen even with their over-enhanced fishery can't take the heat from a world competitor namely fish farms. All this chat about Norwegians is irrelevant. What difference does it make who owns the farms ? They employ Canadians. What would the rant be if they were owned by Canadians or Americans for that matter ? . Let's remember I used to be a commercial salmon fisherman. At that time I too concerned myself that fish farms might be stealing our commercially caught salmon market. I also concerned myself with the fact the USA takes a huge portion of our salmon commercially in Washington state and on the A/B line on the Alaska border and the USA refused to sign a new treaty. All the people like Krause and myself and a few others are trying to do is expose the truth about Morton and her background and make people stop and think for a moment that maybe she and her supporters are more interested in financial gain than they are protecting wild salmon . I don't believe you've ever said what it is that causes you to be so opposed to aquaculture ? ? Let's hear it.

FlagLike

maleman 9 hours ago in reply to heatherolney

The truth would be nice. If Vivian's source of income is none of our business but Morton's is then you have a bias Heather.
If the aquaculture people have to have Vivian attacking Morton to justify their MO then maybe Vivian's source of income is relevant and your assertion that it isn't is wrong.
I find it puzzling that a person can be unemployed for three years but have the time to stalk people instead of looking for a job. If her lifestyle doesn't require a job then maybe she has secrets?
You'd think that someone so loyal to the industry would be found a position if they hire so many people, unless she already has one.
That is what I think.

Flag

Like

heatherolney 8 hours ago in reply to maleman

1 person liked this.

Maleman first of all the aquaculture industry doesn't have to have Vivian stalking people as you put it to justify anything. Secondly Morton's funding is relevant when you consider the expense of some of her campaigns against aquaculture, lawyers to take the government to court etc. Perhaps Vivian is just frugal, I don't know, I don't care because Vivian's income isn't relevant to the expose of Morton's funding and income. As for Vivian stalking Morton the truth about Morton is all over the internet and available under the privacy act. hardly stalking is it ? Your entitled to your opinion of course but just because you choose to believe it doesn't make it true. Are you paid to question her validity ? probably not but I could say I believe you are. Wouldn't make it true though would it ?? Why is it so hard to believe she just believes the industry is unjustly crucified ? You take the time to comment on just about every news story in the Mirror. is it because your paid to or just because you think you have something to say worth saying ?

Flag

Like

Layman 4 days ago

Blogs, research, travel and investigating those terrible "environmentalists" on her relentless bid to defend the aquaculture industry she maintains that she doesn't work for.
Is it just me or does that sound untrue? Why would someone put all that time and effort into the aquaculture industry while maintaining she isn't employed by them?
The Ministry of Lands and Agriculture was determined to keep records of fish farms secret until it became an issue and now Vivian assures us that she isn't involved with the industry she vigorously defends. And we aren't even in Denmark!

Flag

Like

jondamvan 4 days ago

I went to www.fair-questions.com and the first thing on it is a disclaimer stating that nothing on her blog can be downloaded, used or perpetuated and that any or all claims made on it may be deleted or changed at any time.
That is legal mumbo jumbo for if it is a lie you can't sue her because she has already said anything she says can't be used against her.
She sure sounds believable after that disclaimer!

Flag

Like

heatherolney 4 days ago in reply to jondamvan

1 person liked this.

Perhaps you best check out your heroine's blog on Twitter. People commenting against her are not allowed to post their comments unless she agrees with them which naturally means the deck is stacked in her favour. She allows NO comments without her reading them and approving them first which makes for a pretty boring and false dialogue.

Flag

Like

mikegerald 4 days ago

She does a lot of research on Morton and other people that criticize the aquaculture industry for someone that assures us she is a private citizen and has been for three years. Why do I find a problem with that?

Flag

Like

kathywarth 4 days ago

Vivian Krause pointedly assures us that she no longer works for fish farms but as merely a "concerned citizen" she works tirelessly on behalf of fish farms against those that would smear them. North Vancouver is a fairly "high rent" neighbourhood for someone that now works.....where? That is like saying "I used to work for Timberwest but now I work for Couverdon". Since her initial declaration is dubious I see no reason to believe anything else she might say.

Flag

Like

cpelletier 4 days ago

I do not see the point of Vivian's research and I am not surprised that the Council had not much to offer her. Alaska is very active promoting their salmon. Nothing wrong with that. What do BC salmon farmers do to promote theirs? They seem to spend all their time defending themselves and complaining about their opponents. That is reactive, not proactive. That won't deliver them much. Golden rule in sales: don't criticize your competitor. Buyers resent that and turn away from you. When you have a fine quality product better than your competitors' (if that statement is true) you should have no problem outcompeting them in the market. So why does not that seem to happen? Maybe Vivian the Researcher could do some research on that.

Flag

Like

heatherolney 4 days ago in reply to cpelletier

By the way weren't you onetime a salesman for aquaculture ? Tell us what you did then to promote the product ?? Why don't you go to floppingfreshfishcompany.com and read what one Alaska commercial salmon fisherman has to say about the self proclaimed heroine Alex Morton ?

Flag

Like

cpelletier 3 days ago in reply to heatherolney

Yes I used to work for Nutreco in BC and when I was there the salmon farming company did much better than ever before. Mostly we did it by having fun, believing in our product and by having the desire to kick our competitors' behind. There was no whining in my team!

Flag

Like

heatherolney 3 days ago in reply to cpelletier

Perhaps you weren't constantly bombarded with the present lies and Morton hysteria. It takes a lot of fun out of a job for those employed in the industry when they are constantly blamed for things they are not responsible for. There is no whining now from anyone other than Ms Morton and the Alaska commercial salmon fishermen. They are the ones who cannot handle competition and use dirty tricks to try and eliminate the competition from fish farms. As has been exposed and proven by Ms. Krause and her research.

Flag

Like

cpelletier 3 days ago in reply to heatherolney

And perhaps you are wrong. It was the same by then as it is now. All the anti salmon farming buzz was not bothering me one bit because coming from the poultry and meat industry in Europe, I had been through all the hormones, mad cow disease and meat and bone meal crises and Morton and co. would not keep me awake at night. Krause may present valid facts, but they have about no clout. If you want to win a fight, you have to keep the initiative. Morton understands that and that is why the industry is pushed into a corner constantly. Personally I am convinced that in BC there is plenty of room for aquaculture, that fisheries can boom again, that people can have livelihoods and that the environment can be preserved, for as much as the people in BC can act upon it. Forces changing the environmental conditions from far away are beyond what we can do here, of course. All it takes is acting and making all of the above happen. And that will not happen through partisanship. Everyone will have to join forces, regardless of opinions.

Flag

Like

heatherolney 3 days ago in reply to cpelletier

Absolutely, but with Morton's constant criticism and the money she has behind her people are easily swayed into believing her poor science and unfounded claims. Wild stocks were in trouble long before Morton or fish farms. As for maleman & jonvandam's comment about Krause's disclaimer perhaps if they took the trouble to check Raincoast's web site which is Morton they would find pretty much the same disclaimer posted by Alex Morton

Flag

Like

heatherolney 4 days ago in reply to cpelletier

1 person liked this.

The point of Ms. Krause research was to prove Morton is not what she presents herself to be. She is well paid by American interest groups to discredit the salmon farming industry. I take offense at the constant racial slurs she and people like you , Maleman, layman etc make against Norwegian investors. let's remember Morton herself is a foreigner ie. AMERICAN living in Canada who continually promotes Alaska "wild" salmon. Ms krause took the trouble to track her funding via Revenue Canada records to show that she is in fact not so interested in saving wild Canadian salmon as she is in building a bank account with US funding for attempting to put 6000 people out of work for no reason other than it is PROFITABLE to her personally.

Flag

Like

cpelletier 3 days ago in reply to heatherolney

Where in my comment do I mention Norwegians???????

Flag

Like

mikegerald 4 days ago in reply to heatherolney

Racial slurs against Norweigens offends someone that slurs Americans? Is this woman real? If Heather would care to justify the number 6,000 when the industry itself claims less than 4,000 employees I might give her some credence. If Morton isn't who she says she is and that makes her not credible, what does that say about Krause? Vivian Krause is either a very wealthy researcher or someone undisclosed is financing her.

Flag

Like

heatherolney 4 days ago in reply to mikegerald

1 person liked this.

Obviously you don't take into consideration all the local businesses that get business from the aquaculture industry when you consider it's impact on employment. Both directly and indirectly it employs approximately 6000 people in this province. consider every business from Cloverdale paint to lord-co and everything in between. Krause admits to being one time employed in the industry. Why can't you people just accept that she is an individual who cares deeply about something she personally has first hand knowledge. As for me knocking Americans my point is why is an American in Canada knocking Norwegian investors and referring to them in a tone that implies they have a plague or something ? My point is she is also a foreigner. And perhaps I dislike SOME Americans as much as Morton dislikes Norwegians ??

FlagLike

mikegerald 3 days ago in reply to heatherolney

Peoples jobs always interact with other people's jobs Heather. It's called the "economy", you might have heard of it?
Why can't YOU people count the number of people employed by the industry in question without the directly and indirectly BS? If that is your measure just count the world! China has a lot to do with economy as well Heather.
You can't justify the number 6,000. It is less than 4,000 or in the trillions directly or indirectly.

FlagLike

heatherolney 3 days ago in reply to mikegerald

How many people it employs is irrelevant. It is one of the biggest employers in this area if not the biggest. The tourist industry counts every restaurant meal and hotel room as tourism if you read their numbers. perhaps you will tell them also it's called the economy ??

FlagLike

mikegerald 3 days ago in reply to heatherolney

Actually, on the tourism aspect, you are correct. That is also the economy. As for your direct and indirect BS, when I buy paint it has nothing to do with fish farms. Why don't you include anyone who eats?

FlagLike

heatherolney 3 days ago in reply to mikegerald

maybe when you buy paint it has nothing to do with fish farms but it does when I buy it because that's where the money comes from to pay for it.. Truth is Mikegerald without fish farms in this area Campbell River's economy would really be suffering. lets remember those fish farm jobs help keep the economy going in this town. When I referred to local businesses the point I was trying to make is without the 4000-6000 jobs directly or indirectly how many jobs in local businesses might disappear because without the fish farms and their employees business maybe some of those jobs would become redundant.

FlagLike

mikegerald 2 days ago in reply to heatherolney

So what you're saying is that your money relies on fish farms and Krause and Morton aren't the issue? Jobs are the issue and the main point of your argument is that Morton may not always have valid points? Krause may not either so instead of accusing anyone who questions MAL's insistence on secrecy of being a Morton disciple you should just say you need the money.
The original point I made was that Vivian insists she isn't an aquaculture employee when she has been on the scene for years. Now she is in Campbell River lobbying for council support. Her agenda strongly suggests that her claim to not have monetary interests is highly suspect.

You, at least, have admitted you need the paycheck.
Is honesty too much to ask in these comments?

Flag

Like

heatherolney 1 day ago in reply to mikegerald

What I'm saying is the economy of Campbell River and yes myself for that matter rely on fish farming. Remove fish farming from CR and how many businesses would suffer the loss ? So for the city council to respond to Krause as poorly as they did is a joke. They've whined for months over Catalyst. Maybe they should try and protect what's left in the way of employers in the area then. I'll be polite and say MOST of Morton's points are BS which Krause has proven she is paid well to promote her lies by foundations funded by Alaska commercial salmon fishermen. There is a lot in Morton's personal background that exposes her for the propaganda queen she really is. Beamish who is a highly respected Marine Biologist has recently published a paper that refutes her sea lice claims. I used to be a commercial salmon fisherman too. And I know first hand that sockeye for example were in trouble long before Morton showed up here with her sea lice theory. I personally applaud Krause for her painstaking research into Morton's funding. Yes Vivian Krause was once employed by the industry. She claims to only care about an industry she believes in being so wrongly condemned and blamed for everything Morton and her ill informed supporters can throw at it. What's so hard to believe about that ? I've been accused of being paid for posting my comments too. Am I paid. hell no, I've just been screwed out of one source of income already because no one fought for Commercial fishing and wild stocks 20-30 years ago. I don't intend to sit idly by this time especially when I see who and what is trying to screw me and the rest of us out of it. Why do people like Krause and myself immediately get accused of being paid to fight for something we believe in ? Is someone paying you and the others on this blog to speak against it or do you just do it because you don't like salmon farms and if you don't then you should just say why not instead of trying to belittle those that do believe in them.

Flag

Like

mikegerald 12 hours ago in reply to heatherolney

So you are in it for the money. That is fine and understandable but when Ms. Krause claims she isn't getting any financial benefit for all of her work many people find that dubious and if you can't believe that part of her story the rest of it becomes doubtful as well. Krause says Morton is getting huge financial aid and Krause is working for nothing. I don't believe that!

Flag

Like

heatherolney 12 hours ago in reply to mikegerald

mikegerald: Believe what you will. I could say someone is paying you to say what you've said. Would that make it true just because I don't believe you said it without compensation ? No it wouldn't. A lot of the comments regularly made on Mirror blogs come from the same ill-informed group of people who do nothing but throw insults at those that support aquaculture. Yes I rely on fish farming because my husband is employed in it. That isn't the sole reason I support it though. I believe it has a place along with wild salmon and I know from my years as a commercial fisher that I once believed the lies that Morton peddles because the fisherman's union said it was so. Why because fish farming was going to be fierce competition for commercial fishing. When my husband sold out in the buy back he turned to aquaculture for employment because running boats is what he likes to do. He learned through his employment that a lot of what we had been told was bogus and that Morton and those like her lie about everything from what goes on on the farms to why things are done the way they are. Krause has taken the trouble to expose Morton's true agenda. I get slagged because I point out she's an American. I do that because she is an American living in Canada pretending to care deeply about something (ie the Broughton and wild salmon etc.) when the truth is she is well funded by American sources to peddle her lies and propaganda. Personally I think it would be real interesting to see the bottom line on her bank account. Not to mention she was born with a silver spoon in her mouth. I have no problem believing Vivian Krause does what she does simply because she believes it's the right thing to do.

Flag

Like

mikegerald 11 hours ago in reply to heatherolney

Personally, I don't have issues with aquaculture one way or another, and BTW Heather, I am retired and live rather meagerly. What I do care about is honesty and my opinion is that Ms. Krause lacks credibility. She claims to live for three years on $17,500, child support and the profit from a house she sold and now travels to CR to address council on behalf of aquaculture pro bono? Tell you what Heather, you BS your friends and I'll BS mine but lets not BS each other!

Flag

Like

heatherolney 10 hours ago in reply to mikegerald

I'm not bs'ing anyone. I personally raised two daughters for three years on my own earning less than $6000.00 a year, no child support and living in government housing. Single mothers do it everyday and they learn to do it well. I too would have stood up for something I believed in without compensation.

Flag

Like

Reactions

maisondefleur 4 days ago

From Twitter via BackType

Campbell River Mirror - Researcher asks council to defend salmon farming industry: <http://bit.ly/bfUUKJ> via @addthis

CDNAquaculture 4 days ago

From Twitter via BackType

RT @MainstreamCan: Researcher asks council to defend salmon farming industry <http://bit.ly/94GG60>

MainstreamCan 4 days ago

From Twitter via BackType

Researcher asks council to defend salmon farming industry <http://bit.ly/94GG60>

SalmonSpeak 4 days ago

From Twitter via BackType

Interesting report on another piece of the salmon farm debate: <http://bit.ly/b738ko>

CDNAquaculture 4 days ago

From Twitter via UberVU

RT @MainstreamCan: Researcher asks council to defend salmon farming industry <http://bit.ly/94GG60>

farmingnews 4 days ago

From Twitter via BackType

Farming : Researcher asks council to defend salmon farming industry <http://bit.ly/cRSPSP>

agville 4 days ago

From Twitter via BackType

Researcher asks council to defend salmon farming industry <http://bit.ly/b738ko>

GrowWithRLF 4 days ago

From Twitter via UberVU

Researcher asks council to defend salmon farming industry <http://bit.ly/bOBQqH>

Alaska_Salmon 4 days ago

From Twitter via UberVU

Busted. US Foundations exposed for funding anti-salmon farming activities to boost sales of Alaska salmon. <http://bit.ly/bl4mxQ>

Alaskansalmon 5 days ago

From Twitter via BackType

Researcher asks council to defend salmon farming industry <http://bit.ly/bOBQqH>

Trackback URL <http://disqus.com/forums>

Recent Comments on Campbell River Mirror

heatherolney Maleman first of all the aquaculture industry doesn't have to have Vivian stalking people as you put it to justify anything. Secondly Morton's funding is relevant when you consider the expense of...

Campbell River Mirror - Researcher asks council to defend salmon farming industry · 8 hours ago

Steve_Wallace A message to the critics of Ms. Krause: Why are you so concerned with where Ms. Krause lives or how much money she makes? If you do not believe her claims, you should investigate rather than assume...

Campbell River Mirror - Researcher asks council to defend salmon farming industry · 8 hours ago maleman The truth would be nice. If Vivian's source of income is none of our business but Morton's is then you have a bias Heather. If the aquaculture people have to have Vivian attacking Morton to justify...

Campbell River Mirror - Researcher asks council to defend salmon farming industry · 9 hours ago heatherolney Layman : If you read some of Krause's website you also should have read Morton's comment that the Orca Chief does not have a packing license. Morton also states this on her twitter Blog. That is a...

Campbell River Mirror - Researcher asks council to defend salmon farming industry · 10 hours ago heatherolney I'm not bs'ing anyone. I personally raised two daughters for three years on my own earning less than $6000.00 a year, no child support and living in government housing. Single mothers do it...

Campbell River Mirror - Researcher asks council to defend salmon farming industry · 10 hours ago

Most Read Stories

This week | Last week

Most read in your Region

- Researcher asks council to defend salmon farming industry Campbell River Mirror • Apr-15-2010
- Massive search continues for 'despondent' missing man Comox Valley Record • Apr-19-2010
- Facebook censors Valley woman celebrating pregnancy and motherhood Comox Valley Record • Apr-13-2010
- Lots of interest but nowhere to sign anti-HST petition Campbell River Mirror • Apr-15-2010
- Morton Campbell River Mirror • Mar-29-2010
- Costco debate revived Comox Valley Record •

Most read across BC

- Abbotsford driver faces impaired charge after passenger dies Abbotsford News • Apr-13-2010
- Boyfriend dead, woman charged with murder Campbell River Mirror • Apr-05-2010
- UPDATE: Drowning ruled the preliminary cause of death in case involving 16-year old girl The Northern View • Apr-11-2010
- Former Red Scorpion pleads guilty to two murders Abbotsford News • Apr-13-2010
- Drinking and driving claims life of teenager Quesnel Cariboo Observer • Apr-13-2010
- Elton John coming to Kelowna Kelowna

Apr-15-2010

- Costco wants to build in Courtenay Comox Valley Record • Apr-13-2010
- Former manager stole \$23,000 from Eagles Campbell River Mirror • Apr-15-2010
- First time home buyer's tax credit Comox Valley Record • Apr-13-2010
- One school will close North Island Gazette • Apr-13-2010
- Comments pouring in Comox Valley Record • Apr-13-2010
- Another conviction for violent offender Campbell River Mirror • Apr-13-2010

Capital News • Apr-19-2010

- 'Love-of-life' musician felled by brain hemorrhage during gig Abbotsford News • Apr-18-2010
- WEB EXTRA: Police dispel unfounded Polson attack rumours Vernon Morning Star • Apr-19-2010
- Church volunteer a 'serial pedophile'; sentenced to seven years Abbotsford News • Apr-16-2010
- Langley man charged with Surrey murder Surrey North Delta Leader • Apr-13-2010
- BOB SIMPSON: The end of the Forest Service? Williams Lake Tribune • Apr-15-2010
- Massive search continues for 'despondent' missing man Comox Valley Record • Apr-19-2010

more local news from around BC »

