Mr. Solomon,

The CRA announced recently that it has completed audits of the political activity of 21 charities and that it has sent letters to these charities. Five charities have been informed that the CRA intends to revoke their charitable status: http://www.cra-arc.gc.ca/chrts-gvng/chrts/bt/chrtsprgrm_pdt-2015-eng.html

Have any of the charities where you are president/treasurer been informed that the CRA intends to revoke charitable status?

The Endswell Foundation?

The Nextwave Foundation?

The LI Leadership Institute?

Or charities where, until recently, you were a director?

The Salal Foundation?

Tides Canada Foundation

Tides Canada Initiatives Society

I note that the CRA also says that its audits have revealed "serious non-compliance issues, beyond those related to political activities," including "delivery of an undue benefit to a person involved with the charity." Does this finding pertain to any of the charities that you are or have been involved with?

Sincerely,

Vivian Krause
